

WITH THE FARMERS

Farm Bureau Official Information

MARKET FOR HOGS STUDIED BY "F. B."

Twenty-six per cent more hogs were slaughtered under federal inspection in the first eight months of 1923 than in the same interval of 1922. Average weights were practically the same in both years. The government's report upon prices shows that $608,225,000 were paid by slaughterers for the hogs killed from January to August, 1922, and only $612,250,000 for 26 per cent more hogs in 1923. Allowing for costs of shipping and marketing, the additional numbers the net returns to producers would show very little gain from this large tonnage of pork.

Since early in 1923 prices have been too low to cover production costs and the price of hogs has been relatively low. Both spring and fall pig crops were large, however, and until these are disposed of market prices will continue relatively low and prices more or less unsatisfactory. This would mean that some improvement can be expected in the market late next summer and fall provided that consumer buying power is not impaired.

A Greater Demand
A high rate of domestic consumption of hog products, which has been greater than a year ago, will continue as long as employment and wage conditions in towns and cities remain favorable. No decided change in this direction is likely to occur for a number of months. Exports of hog products gained 37 per cent in pounds and 27 per cent in dollars thus far in 1923 over the corresponding period of 1922 in spite of the handicaps of foreign buyers. Exports are likely to remain heavy as long as production is high and prices are low.

Stocks of hog products in storage at the start of the new hog year are but little above the five-year average for the corresponding date.

Present Corn Rate
That the ratio between corn hog prices exercises a controlling influence over hog production is well established by records of the past. United States prices paid to producers in the United States from 1910 to 1912, as reported by the department of agriculture, it has required on the average 11.2 bushels of corn to equal the farm price of 100 pounds of hogs. When this ratio dropped to around six to eight bushels, hog production has been curtailed until the ration widened again. During the four months from June to September, 1922, the latest period for which the records are available, the ration has averaged 7.9. Presumably, this situation has continued long enough to stimulate curtailment in hog production both as to breeding operations and as to the weights to which market hogs are carried before they are sold.

The total yield of feed grains is larger this year than last, but owing to a smaller carryover of corn, a lighter hay crop, and a larger amount of livestock to be fed, feed is likely to continue unfavorable for the next eight or 10 months.

Public Eating More Pork
Apparent domestic consumption of hog products slaughtered under federal inspection in the first eight months of 1923 was 23 per cent larger than in 1922. Retail prices in the principal cities have increased about 10 per cent lower and employment and wage conditions have been favorable to high consumption. Attractive prices for cotton have helped the

WOMAN HIKER, AGE 60, VISITS CITY

Given Aid Here En Route to See Son in Winuksha Hospital.

Walking from the west to Washington, D. C., four times since the war is the claim made by Mrs. Margaret Anderson, who is 60 years of age. Her last trip was from Miles City, Mont., which she now considers to be her home. She made the journey in about four months, leaving Miles City in March of this year and arriving in Washington in July. She says she journeyed from Sioux Falls, S. D., to the same place in 1922. Mrs. Anderson was in Janesville Wednesday.

Her first trip east was made to secure the compensation from the government which she believed was due her on account of the death of her son, Donald, who was killed in action. Incidentally, she witnessed the ceremonies in honor of the unknown soldier. Her other son, Joseph, was in a government hospital at Minneapolis at that time.

Gets Son Out of Prison
He, becoming tired of the strict discipline of the hospital, left, changed his name, but was finally caught and placed in Leavenworth prison, as his conduct was considered to be desertion. The next two trips were made with a view of obtaining his release, which was finally accomplished. He is now in a hospital at Washington, where his mother is going from here to see him.

The last trip was made as a second attempt to secure the compensation from the government which she feels is due her, but which she has not yet obtained. At that time she said she knew her acquaintance with President Harding, whom she had known as a boy at Marion, O., where she had resided for some time many years ago.

On her return trip, she had reached Gary, Ind., when news was received of the president's death, and she waited at Chicago to see the funeral train.

Given Aid in Janesville
Dean Ryan of the Catholic church, Mrs. George H. Devins, president of the Catholic Women's Aid, and Mrs. Louis Amerphol, president of the Woman's auxiliary of the American Legion, have her the needed aid while in this city. She is a member of the Legion auxiliary in Kansas.

Referring to her journeys through the country, she said that she was received in many places in a way which led her to believe that those to whom she told her story believed her to be mentally deficient.

In making one of her trips Mrs. Anderson was accompanied by an Airline dog. She has been entertained many times by various community clubs, including such organizations as the Kiwanis and Lions clubs. Having no money, she stopped at Catholic convents at the towns along the route, and was always given shelter.

LaFollette "All Right"
Among her acquaintances who claim Senators LaFollette and Magnus Johnson. In regard to them she says, "LaFollette is all right; so is Johnson. He lives right in my town, Litchfield, Minn. Some people think he is a little bit off but you don't dare tell him so."

Among the other cities of which she has been a resident, Mrs. Anderson claims to have lived in both Janesville and Beloit some years ago.

CRIME INCREASES AROUND WASHINGTON
Washington — Figures now being tabulated by Manuel J. Flervo, prosecuting attorney for the federal district, show a great increase in crime in the capital district since 1920. In comparison with 407 murders in the 1910-20 period, there were 681 in 1922 alone. The total number of persons wounded in that year was 10,723 as compared with 13,279 between 1916 and 1920.

ENVOY'S WIFE DIVORCED
Paris—Mrs. Spencer Edley, wife of the former United States minister to Argentina, Rumania and Serbia, was granted a divorce and the custody of their 14 year old son.

Gagnon Is Held to Face Trial

Arrested in Janesville last Saturday for stealing $150 out of a trunk in the Harry Manor restaurant in Fond du Lac, Wis., Gagnon was bound over to the circuit court for trial by Judge H. M. Pelleng, Fond du Lac, this week. He was held in preliminary hearing on a charge of grand larceny and on his failure to furnish $1,000 bail was committed to the Fond du Lac county jail. Gagnon, alias Arthur Gagny, was arrested here by Sergeant Charles Handy and by trooper William Saxby when tipped off by a taxi driver who brought him here from Fond du Lac that he was either a millionaire or a lunatic.

Motor Sweeper Given Try-Out
Driven overland from the plant in Beloit, the $2,500 motor driven street sweeper which the city proposes buying, arrived Wednesday morning and was given a try-out on Hickory and North Street pavements. It worked to the satisfaction of officials and its purchase is practically assured. On Hickory street where the pavement has not been laid fairly good work, but it was explained that more work will have to be done here because of the great accumulation of dirt over a period of two years.

Great masses of dead leaves were picked up and piled at the intersections for gathering by trucks. The machine sweeps a path in feet wide and grays in front of the broom to keep down the dust.

TWO ARE ARRESTED FOR FAILURE TO TAKE TREATMENTS
For failure to attend the medical clinic for regular treatments of a social disease in a communicable stage, Fern Morris and Peter Stutz, Janesville, were arraigned before Judge H. L. Maxfield in municipal court Wednesday. Both entered pleas of not guilty and their trial was set for Friday, with bail of $150 each.

George S. Goffa appeared as their attorney. The man and woman were arrested on a complaint sworn out by Dr. G. J. question of separation of the south-eastern part of territory from the northwestern section indicated a large majority in favor of the proposition.

The waist measurement dropped from 25 to 22 from 1881 to 1920, stood still for 10 years and then gradually increased until it reached 25 once more.

ANTI-SALOON HEAD BOOSTS COOLIDGE

Approval of Administration Held Blow to Pinchot Campaign Hopes.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923, by Jamesville Daily

Washington, Nov. 8.—Straws which show which way the national winds of politics may be blowing are too few today to draw any worth while conclusions and, while the two squares of both the major parties profess to find satisfaction in what has happened, there are only a few things significant in Tuesday's elections.

First, the election of the "dry" forces that New York state would punish the democrats for not punishing the republicans retained control. Second, the "wet" forces showed their strength as ever in the state of Maryland, where Governor Ritchie was re-elected by an overwhelming majority. Both candidates were "wets," but Mr. Ritchie was not enough to earn the endorsement of the Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment.

Democrats Win Kentucky. Third, Kentucky came back into the democratic fold by turning out its republican governor, James M. Cox, democratic nominee for the presidency in 1920, campaigned actively in Kentucky. This year and the final vote showed that the state went democratic by an even greater vote than it cast in 1920.

Fourth, the special elections to congress were about a stand-off, neither party making any substantial headway and the contests were so local in character that national significance can hardly be attached to them.

Far more important, however, in the realm of national politics Tuesday than any election that was held was the puncturing of Governor Gifford Pinchot's boom for the republican presidential nomination. He had started out to make an issue of prohibition, contending that President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon were not enforcing the Volstead law as effectively as they could.

For several days, Mr. Pinchot's charges have been occupying Washington's attention, particularly the statement that Secretary Mellon was obstructing enforcement of the law. Mr. Mellon had been from Pennsylvania and had just been elected to the delegation from the Keystone state to the Almont convention.

Dry Approve Coolidge. Now comes Wayne E. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league and the acknowledged leader of the "dry" forces in America, with a statement endorsing not only President Coolidge's efforts to enforce prohibition but putting the terms of approval on Secretary Mellon's record.

It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for every-thing.

It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

MAJESTIC FRIDAY Saturday

WILLIAMS HART The Money Cord

How he got into the vault was a mystery, but when the game was there to "clean up" they found him waiting—waiting with his "gun" and an eagle eye that could direct a bullet to points the average eye couldn't see.

Then the "Big Works" came in and asked him what he wanted. What do you suppose he did want? Come to see, it's great!

Chapter No. 2 of "SPEED" and TWO PART COMEDY.

ion, too. Mr. Wheeler says if the states will only do as much as the federal government has done, all will be well. This is interpreted as meaning that, even if Governor Pinchot himself would use his state power, he would get better results in his campaign.

But the most dramatic development is the willingness of the Anti-Saloon league to swap Mr. Pinchot for Mr. Coolidge. The support of the Anti-Saloon league to the national administration is important politically and if, as is again and again rumored, the democrats name a "wet" candidate for the office, the strength of the Anti-Saloon league will be behind the republican presidential nominee.

Uphold Administration. When Governor Pinchot came to Washington and presided over the citizenship conference on prohibition, it was generally believed the "dry" forces were using the Pinchot barrage as a means of bringing President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon into closer harmony with the Anti-Saloon league program.

This having been accomplished, the "drys" think more is to be gained by upholding the federal administration than by fighting it.

Governor Pinchot's political boom was based largely on the idea that the national administration wasn't "dry" enough. It looked for awhile as if he might capture the leadership, politically, of the "dry" forces in America.

The maneuver by Wayne Wheeler has checkmated that ambition and, in the opinion of most observers, has deprived Mr. Pinchot of his principal issue for a fight against the republican executive in the White House. He may turn to the old time controversy between the so-called "progressives" and "reactionaries," but having suffered a defeat on prohibition, his chances today are considered to have been diminished by the little statement from the headquarters of the Anti-Saloon league.

Relief Turned Into Smuggling, Is Charge

INFANT WELFARE CENTER ADVOCATED

Federation Wants Work Permanent Activity of Health Department.

Resolutions asking that the infant welfare center be continued in the city hall as a permanent activity of the health department, were adopted unanimously by the board of City Federation of Women at the November meeting in the rest room, Thursday forenoon.

The federation board also voted to continue the annual scholarship for the best all-around girl graduate of the Jamesville high school, and instructed the corresponding secretary to invite Miss Adeline Fuchs, 1923 scholarship winner, to attend the next board meeting.

In response to a communication from the chamber of commerce, the board instructed the federation president to serve with two other members whom she is to appoint as representatives from the federation in the proposed community council.

The treasurer's report showed that the rummage sale receipts totaled $335. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Louis L. Smith, who conducted the sale. Mrs. Amersperg reported that left-over garments were given to needy families and to the Salvation Army.

A donation of $25 was voted toward the expense of entertaining the executive men on Armistice day, and members were urged to attend the community meeting at 8 p. m. Sunday at the high school auditorium.

The day nursery committee reported an average attendance of nearly 16 per day during October. The board voted to continue the day nursery committee to co-operate with the Salvation Army advisory board and authorized the president to appoint a chairman to succeed Mrs. Florence Hyde, who asked to be relieved because of having accepted the office of secretary for the Salvation Army advisory board.

Resolution on Center.
The resolution adopted with reference to the infant welfare center follows:

"In view of the fact that the infant welfare center operated in Jamesville for the past year by the state bureau of child welfare with the backing of the City Federation of Women, has been removed to Clinton, and that the city hall is a center in the city where the state bureau, and inasmuch as close to 100 different children of pre-school age have been brought to the center in this city during the past year, it is the sense of this federation that some plan should be worked out by which this work may be carried on in a center in the city hall in connection with the city health department, to whom we pledge our hearty co-operation and support in such an undertaking."

WAITS ARRIVAL OF HER NEW FORTUNE

Elkhorn Woman Is Hounded by Auto Salesmen; Will Pay Mortgage.

Elkhorn—Suddenly thrown into the limelight in the community where, unnoticed, she has spent most of her life working hard, with few of the luxuries which all women yearn for, Mrs. William Baker, 27, now lives on her farm near here in anticipation of the day she will become one of the richest persons in Walworth county. Although she has not received the $75,000 which is rumored to have been left her by her father, George Young of Chicago, Mrs. Baker is impatiently awaiting the time when $75,000 of that amount will be deposited in a bank to her credit. In the meantime, she joyously tells all who will listen, of her good fortune and spends a great deal of her time riding in new automobiles. She announced she was a prospective customer and as a result has been visited by many dealers.

The woman's sister, Mrs. Bernice Hooper, and a brother, Howard Young, Chicago attorney, have visited here this week. According to the best information available, the $75,000 in cash will be deposited in a bank to the woman's credit within a month. The $75,000 is in fact, it is declared, in mortgages and bonds.

Mrs. Baker and her husband have three small children. There is an $8,000 mortgage on their farm, which is the only property they own. Mrs. Baker declares she will pay this off in addition to buying an automobile and some other things.

Know Your House and Its Methods, Sales Folk Told

More than 150 sales people of Janesville went back to school Wednesday night and heard James W. Fisk, merchandising counsel of the Milwaukee Journal and the Janesville Gazette, tell them how to take advantage of advertising their sales, and other methods by which they might increase them. The subject of the address delivered by Mr. Fisk was "Know Your House and Its Methods." He is giving here under auspices of the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce and the Gazette, was "How Advertising Lessens Sales Resistance."

Sixty slides depicting advertisements of large manufacturers were shown. The selling points of these advertisements were given by the merchandising counsel who outlined how salespeople may profit by having available a large amount of information concerning the product.

He emphasized the need for sales people to acquaint themselves with what was contained in advertisements and to gain knowledge of merchandising.

"Intelligently the institution's publicity with counter conversation, have a better knowledge of the merchandise you are selling, and a better arrangement and display of goods, and you will make the store and yourselves more successful in pleasing the public and building business," Mr. Fisk said.

Mr. Fisk will make his third and final appearance here Nov. 21.

GET EXTRADITION PAPERS FOR MAN

Tonlinson to Be Brought Back Here on Statutory Charge.

Patrolman Charles Dickinson has returned to Janesville after making visits to the executive offices of two state capitals—Madison, Wis., and Springfield, Ill.—to obtain extradition papers which will make it possible to bring Neil Tonlinson to this city for trial on a statutory charge.

Tonlinson, a married man and a resident of Janesville for several years, is alleged to have left this city a year ago with a married woman, with whom he is charged by law.

He refused to come to Janesville without extradition papers giving police the right to take him from one jurisdiction to another. It was necessary for Patrolman Dickinson to obtain the signatures of both Governor John J. Blaine and Governor Len Smith.

While in Chicago this week after his trip to Madison and Springfield, Mr. Dickinson found he was unable to take Tonlinson into custody until Friday. He was unable to get a warrant to report back to the court on that day, when it is probable he will be taken by the Janesville police and brought to this city for arraignment in municipal court Saturday.

This is the second annual national "forget-me-not day."

NEIGHBORS HELP OUT INJURED MAN

His corn husking neglected, together with other full farm work, because of his misfortune six weeks ago when he broke his arm while cutting corn, Charles Austin, Harmony township farmer, is today thankful that he has good neighbors.

Austin advertised for help but real help came in the form of a corn husking bee, in which they husked 10 or 12 loads of corn, about half of what was in the field.

Mrs. Austin served dinner and supper for the men.

The estimated value of the estate is $50,000, of which $31,000 real estate and $20,000 personal property.

His widow is given the entire income from the estate during her lifetime, after which the entire that the estate be divided equally among the four sons and one daughter.

VIOLATORS OF TWO TRAFFIC LAWS PAY
Harold Wagner paid a fine and costs of $2.00 in municipal court Thursday, when he pleaded guilty to exceeding the automobile speed limit on Milton avenue. Violating the automobile ordinance cost Walter Copeland $2.00.

A new burden has been added to the life of house mistresses by the suggestion that servants ought to be provided with uniforms to match the color effects of the rooms in which they happen to be working.

BOOKS ON SOCIAL WORK AVAILABLE

Community Problems Discussed in New Volumes at Local Library.

Following the conference of social workers here last week, several new books considering some of the same problems have been placed in circulation by the public library. Among the best is "The Evolution of Public Health Nursing," by Annie M. Brainard, a lecturer on public health nursing in Western Reserve university.

Another book, from the University of Chicago press, is called "The Community Church," written by Albert C. Zimmern, and is a study of the problem of uniting the various denominations into one body. The rise, types and activities of community churches are discussed in detail.

"Crime: Its Cause and Treatment," by Clarence Darrow, gives the view of this problem. The author, a lawyer for over 40 years, contends that crime, as much as insanity and disease, deserves intelligent treatment at the hands of specialists.

Story of Riley, the Poet.
"The Maturity of James Whitcomb Riley," by Marcus Delley, is a story of the life of the poet, "From Seven to Seventy," the story of Edward Simmons, the American painter of murals in the congressional library and other public buildings, written by the artist's son, William L. Phelps. In it are treated such men as Franklin D. Roosevelt, Lincoln, Emerson and T. W. Higginson.

"Our Foreign Born Citizens," by Annie E. S. Beard, is an indirect study of the immigration problem, but it is a very interesting book. It treats with a few examples of foreign born citizens such as Rudolph, Deil, Carmelo and Bok, who have contributed much to the progress of this country.

Other New Volumes.
John C. Campbell, the author of "The Return of the Middle Class," points out that there is an erroneous assumption that there are two classes, capital and labor, whereas there are three, capital, labor, and the professional and salaried men, who are the brainworkers of the country.

As an explanation of the Eastern problem, which is a very real one, and from the West, by Abraham M. Ribicoff, a Syrian by birth and now a leading citizen in this country, should receive more than a passing notice. It is a very interesting book, which is worthwhile to read in Herbert Hoover's "American Individualism."

As an addition to the several new books on music lately received by the library, "The Science of Musical Sounds," by Prof. D. C. Miller of the University of California, gives a different angle to the subject. It is not on the subject of music itself, but on the relation of music and causes.

Experiences in the Oregon country in pioneer days is the subject of a new book by Alice Pratt called "A Homesteader's Portfolio." The book is a novel treatment of life in the far west.

GIFT OF THE KING

At least one Sunday a year I like to spend among the ruins of the great city of Carthage, built by the great Carthage, but taken from him by Henry VIII. I have often wondered why this magnificent palace is not a better kept by some enterprising "movie" producer.

It is a delight to wander through the magnificent ruins of the Carthage, and to see the queen's antechamber and look at the paintings by Peter Lely and Godfrey Kneller of the ladies who were court favorites in that country.

I generally go down to Hampton court to visit a dear old lady, for though she is a widow, she is a very good one. She makes no use of it except that she gives suites of apartments to the not very well-to-do widows of men who have served the state in some capacity, and she is a very good one.

Warn Service Men Against Attorneys Getting Back Pay

Warning to service men of Janesville and southern Wisconsin, who were attorneys at Washington, D. C., who would help them collect back pay, was sounded here Thursday by John W. Gross, Jr., commander of the local American Legion. He said that the local American Legion service officer, J. P. Burns, Milwaukee, Wisconsin American Legion service officer.

Some Washington attorneys are soliciting service men who were in officers' training camps, it is said. They offer to collect back pay, recently allowed, if they are given 10 per cent of any amount received from the government.

The case was brought before local officials by receipt of such a letter by a Janesville former service man. The man who wrote the letter said that he did not need to employ an attorney, said Mr. Gross, after getting in touch with the state department. "He has but to write to the state department, giving his name, serial number, organization, rank, pay received, time and date of service in camp, name of the camp and his present address."

Those who served in officers' training camps should have received $100 a month, says Commander Gross, and if they did not, they are entitled to the difference between that sum and what they were paid.

Jollies of 1924 in Second View

Again on Wednesday night Kiwanis minstrels scored a hit with the performance of "Jollies of 1924." The Myers was packed—not an empty seat except in the last row of the gallery. There are a few seats in the lower gallery, but the rest were the rows come out in odd numbers. That is all for the three nights. The original tickets for these seats have been sold but no reservations.

The place was, if anything, better Wednesday and Tuesday. It began, on time, went through in regular order and every act on the stage was done in professional style.

DOWN WENT the hopes of the University of Wisconsin-Madison football team when they were defeated by the University of Illinois at Chicago in a game played at the University of Illinois at Chicago. GERBER was found guilty of having been an athletic director at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The conference rule provides that no student shall participate in any intercollegiate contest, who has ever used his athletic ability or gymnastic skill for gain. That is the rule, and though it is the essence of narrowness, it is the conference rule and must be accepted.

THERE IS ANOTHER conference rule that students may engage in life guards and other similar work where the requirements do not call for technical physical training. In the long run, it is the difference in a game where admission is charged unless the gate receipts are for some other organization. Again, what is the difference, if the participant does not receive any of the money? This column believes that more should be needed in the definition of amateurism.

A lot of cold water has been thrown upon the chances of Wisconsin now that Gerber was found to have coached in swimming.

Badder-Illini Relations Strained; Drop Gerber

TACKLE HELD PRO; NO COUNTER SLAM IS JONES' EDICT

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Madison—At the crucial stage of another western conference football season, the independent University of Wisconsin team found itself Thursday handicapped by the loss of a star tackle, disqualified for professionalism. The decision of the athletic council of the university arrived late Wednesday, making E. C. Gerber, indisputable.

Intense indignation was displayed Thursday by the student body over the finding which disqualified one of their football stars. They recalled the incident of last year, when shortly before the game with Illinois, a protest from that school brought the game off to a halt. Murray, another star tackle, the Badgers lost that game and their spirit hasn't recovered as yet.

NO PROTEST OF CHARGE.

JONES TELEGRAMS HUFF.

Madison—Editors that University of Wisconsin athletic officials planned to contest "Red" Grange, Illinois star, were silenced Thursday when E. C. Gerber, director of athletics, made public a telegram sent to George Huff, athletic director at Illinois.

"No such thing was even thought of," Jones said in the message. "Wisconsin has no protest against any Illinois player nor do we think that information given to Griffith in the Chicago press is in the least true. We greatly regret insinuations published. Furthermore we are anxious to avoid a repetition of last year's unpleasantness and continue present friendly relations."

BIG TEN KICKING OFF PROS, DECLARES GRIFFITH. Chicago—The western conference is rapidly becoming a professional league from among its athletes by strict enforcement of rules, Major John L. Griffith, conference commissioner of athletics, said in statement Thursday. His pronouncement followed closely the finding by the University of Wisconsin Athletic Council that E. C. Gerber, star Badger tackle, violated a fair play rule when he accepted compensation for directing J. M. C. athletes.

Commissioner Griffith declared that "in the last few months, conference directors have disqualified 50 or 60 men for violating the professional rule." In that time the names of 2,700 varsity and freshmen varsity athletes have been in file in the different universities.

"It is to be questioned," the commissioner said, "whether any other group of colleges has disqualified as many athletes for professionalism. This does not mean that more men in this section are professional than in other sections, and in fact most of these men were disqualified for minor infractions of the rules, but it means that the directors are enforcing the rules."

BADGER HOPES FOR WIN TAKES TERRIFIC SLUMP. Madison—Hopes for a victory over the undefeated Illinois team dimmed somewhat by the loss of E. C. Gerber, who was declared ineligible by the athletic council Wednesday, the Wisconsin football team prepared to continue its tour of the lower west for the season.

At Chicago, the Badgers met the team Wednesday afternoon when it was going through its last scrimmage before Saturday's game.

The team scrimmaged late Wednesday night under lights in an effort to plug the holes made by shifts in the lineup this week. Ed Williams is the most likely candidate for the quarterback position against Illinois.

Carl Miller, Benton, Pa., list and Hendrix at Chicago, the list and possibilities for Gerber's place, which will be hard to fill.

The team as a whole is in fairly good physical condition, coaches reported Thursday.

Milton Seconds Set for Delavan. Milton—Coach Crandall has announced a football game between the Milton college team and the state school for the deaf, Delavan, to be played Friday on the lower campus at Milton. A game was played between these two teams last year, the result being 6-0 in favor of the Milton scrubs.

The Delavan school has one of its characteristically strong teams, which is having a good season. A good game is expected.

The college seconds do not look as good as last year, although the line has been bolstered by the return of Samuelson, who was a regular second string tackle last year. Roberts, former Milton center, is out with an infection in his neck and is not expected to be in shape to play.

Under a new law in China, a man may obtain a divorce from his wife by speaking disrespectfully of her mother-in-law.

DANCE PLANNED; GUESTS SAY, "NO," DANCE ANYWAY. Superior—Superior Normal students plan dancing party for members of the St. Olaf football team of Northfield, Minn., Saturday evening. But there will not be any St. Olaf players present.

Chas. J. A. Skagen, local Lutheran minister head that the normal students planned dancing as part of the entertainment for the St. Olaf boys he protested to the local institution.

Following up his protest, he wired a similar protest to the officials of the St. Olaf school. In reply word was received here that as far as St. Olaf was concerned the dance could be called off.

Instead the St. Olaf boys are to be taken out of Superior after the game and entertained at the First Lutheran church in Duluth. The normal students say they want the dance anyway and propose to dance.

Monroe Is Tough Foe for Blues on Saturday

Janesville High school faced a tough, clever and scrapping eleven when it clashes against Monroe high at the Green county seat, Saturday afternoon. The game promised to be one of the heaviest of the heavy schedule of the Blue jockers.

Monroe has expectations of repeating the dose it handed the Blue jockers a year ago. Reports are coming out of that town that the Blue jockers will ram right into Janesville with but one thought—victory by the largest score possible.

"Well, look here," says the Monroe stories.

Couch Gibson of Janesville is taking Monroe at its word.

"They are a tough enemy," he said Thursday morning, "and my boys have got to get that into their heads."

The Blue eleven has been sent through severe practice for the first few days of the week. They have been given special attention in work-outs on the lot adjacent to the South Main street building.

Practice was held all Thursday afternoon and will be again Friday morning with considerable attention being given the individuals. "Gibby" has a few new stunts to pull against Monroe.

Some Changes Made.

Belton will be used at right tackle on Saturday, replacing Sterns. Out for a week, Condon is going in at right half again. Leonard, last week's star, is being moved to the place of the stocky Nightengale.

Darkness falls too early for the team these days. Because of it practice has been shifted from the fair grounds to the lot adjacent to the teachers' convention is on a great help in whipping the boys around for a repetition of their work of last week when they showed a beautiful fighting spirit.

Bowling Expert Praises Alleys for State Meet.

Billy Sixty, Milwaukee sports writer and expert on bowling, is high in praise of the 12 new drives here for the state bowling tournament in January and February. His latest comment goes this way:

"Janesville is ready for the test. Twelve beautiful alleys, well kept, regular, and located, are ready for the 1924 meet."

"There is life, ever so much life, in the 'kick-backs.' We found that out as our match progressed, though we punched the pins on the nose so much in our first few starts that we were hardly able to appreciate how readily the pins really fall."

"Let this be a warning to you, fellow bowlers: If you drive into the kingdom, you'll get splits, as you will in any alley. There is life in the kick-backs, but you must realize that kick-backs never help a nose hit."

"Six alleys are located on the second floor and the remaining six on the first floor. The proposition. It will be no simple task to conduct the event as Secretary Fenske has what additional work is necessary because the alleys are not on one floor is worth while because the conditions are so wonderful."

The only possible interference will be found in the center of each floor, where a row of posts interferes with the scorekeepers' view and splits up the teams rolling on the set.

"However, it has been arranged to build a high perch for the scorekeepers, view, and splits a them markers, and it is likely no squawk will come from the teams. At least, we hope there shall be no more."

"There will be room on both the second and third floors for spectators. Several rows of seats will be installed."

"Janesville is ready for the test."

"HIP, HIP," O. K. IN COLLEGE YELL, NOT ON FLASKS

Atlanta, Ga.—Drinking at football games in Georgia is going to be stopped, according to federal prohibition Director Dismuke, who has announced that the college of Athens on the day of the Georgia-Virginia game and personally direct the prohibition enforcement law there. NUMBER ON THE LINE

By SOL METZGER

Question—"Why is it that some teams play six men on the line when on defense and others seven?"

Merely a matter of the way different coaches think. Some believe that six men on the line gives them a stronger formation for loading up forward passes; others differ from them. Certain it is that seven men on the line are better able to stop a running attack than six. To stop a running attack you have to have a strong forward line and any football follower can see that seven men are stronger than six.

Teams vary their defense in so far as the number they play on the scrimmage line is concerned, according to the down and distance to be gained by the opposition and the coach who in the opinion holds the ball. For convenience coaches divide the field into five zones, each of twenty yards. As the attack moves from its goal the style of play is somewhat different as a rule. A team will open up more as it approaches your goal, for the risk in losing the ball by intercepted forward passes is not so likely to defeat you as if you lost it to your opponents when near your own goal.

Coaches who are fortunate in having six forward strong centers to stop a line attack, never put seven men on the line on defense. They prefer to use the extra man in the backfield in order to make sure the opponents cannot successfully open up a forward passing game. Yet, these same teams Vanderbilt is one—vary their play to suit the extent. They will play six men on the line when the opposition is punting near its own goal-line. They figure on blocking or rushing the kick, a very sound principle of play at this point. A blocked kick here usually gets them a score and a rushed kick is usually a lost one, so they get the ball near the opponent's goal as a result.
